

The Bilingual Health Workforce Strategy

The Bilingual Health Workforce Strategy 2.0 is a resource designed to help health organizations develop a bilingual talent management strategy that will make them stand out during the current shortage of health human resources. This resource complements eQUITY Fundamentals, which offers a broader approach to planning, implementing, and evaluating French language health services.

This resource provides a comprehensive overview of bilingual talent management in the context of current labour shortages. We invite you to approach this resource selectively in line with your needs and step by step so you can choose a few strategies to implement in your organization and return to it periodically to adapt it to your progress and the changing labour market.
